

ANCILE Corporate Overview

ANCILE's mission is to help organizations realize the full potential of their technology investments by focusing on user adoption – the number one factor in software success. ANCILE's award-winning solutions, including ANCILE uPerform®, ANCILE uAlign®, and ANCILE uGuide™ have been chosen by over 19 million users and more than 4,400 customers across the globe, including half of the Fortune 100.

Having created the learning and performance software category more than 15 years ago, ANCILE revolutionized the way organizations think about and approach workforce performance and user adoption. ANCILE was the first to deliver employee-specific learning content based upon employee's language, location, or role - all from a single content repository. And, we were the first to combine authoring, publishing, content management, performance support, collaboration, and context-sensitive help into one solution.

ANCILE's solutions provide the fastest, easiest way to create, manage, and distribute software learning content that drives user adoption and ROI across the entire software lifecycle.
