

New in ANCILE uPerform® 5.3

Engagement is a key ingredient of successful adoption of your new or changed business applications and processes. When users are engaged by your messaging and learning content, they are more likely to pay attention to that messaging. This attention returns dividends to your organization in the form of better adoption of change.

With ANCILE uPerform 5.3, the focus is on engagement. Four new features allow you to substantially enhance the presentation of your elearning courses.

Dramatic New Transition Effects

Course Animations

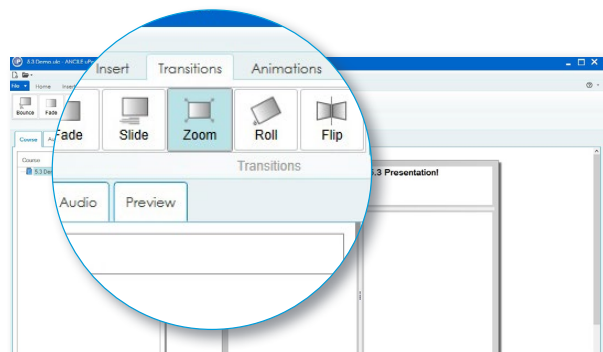

- Add animations to text and images on a course page.
- Choose Direction and Sequence effect options for each animation.
- Easily add or remove an animation.
- Select the timing for each animation.
- Quickly reorder animations.

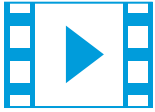

Page Transitions

- Add page transitions to display effects from page to page.
- Choose Direction and Sequence effect options for each transition.
- Easily add or remove a transition.
- Quickly apply one transition to all pages within a course.

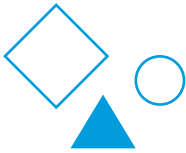

Great New Engagement Tools

Embedded Web Videos

Add web videos to courses by embedding web-based video code into the course page.
